SeafoodFest Success!

We were pleased at the number of people who stopped by the old Bank of Everglades building on both Saturday and Sunday, February 3-4, during the annual Seafood Festival to explore the historic building and offer their donations for the remaining items.

We spoke to hundreds of visitors, gave out copies of our newsletter, and received almost $900 in donations. And, our thanks to the volunteers who helped over the weekend.

If you would like a private tour and a glimpse of the upstairs rooms, contact Patty at (239) 719-0020.

Celebrating 50 Years

*Who was Nathaniel Reed?
Why is the Big Cypress Visitor Center named after him?
What are plans for the future of the Preserve?*

When the Everglades National Park was opened in December 1947, it did not include the land north of the Tamiami Trail as envisioned by the original campaigners to save the swamp. This led to a big problem 20 years later when the Dade County Airport Authority bought up 39 square miles to build a supersonic Jetport with multi-lane highway, high-speed rail link, and town for 100,000 supporting staff.

Environmentalists protested that massive development would deprive the Everglades of water which naturally flowed through the area. At the time, Nat Reed was special advisor to Florida Governor Claude Kirk who convinced President Nixon's Secretary of the Interior to stop the ruination of the Big Cypress. It was established as the first National Preserve with legislation passed in 1974.

You can learn more and hear from Guest Speaker Scott Pardue (Chief of Interpretation & Education at Big Cypress) what will happen next at our Annual Meeting & Talk on Friday, February 23, at 2:00 p.m. in the Jinkins Fellowship Hall behind Everglades Community Church on the Circle. Reservations are requested so we can plan refreshments – email us on ESHP@hotmail.com or phone Marya at (239) 451-0265.

OFFICIAL BUSINESS

We received Nomination forms to serve on the Board of Directors from the current Board (see back page) plus Tony Pernas of Everglades City.

There is no need for a formal election because the maximum number of Directors allowed in the bylaws is 11 so this is an uncontested ballot.

This slate will be formally ratified at our Annual Members' Meeting on Friday, February 23. Officers are selected by the new Board at their next meeting which is on March 4.

State Historic Tax Credit

The Florida Trust for Historic Preservation is urging our House in Tallahassee to pass legislation enabling tax credits for preserving historic buildings.
